

Charge of Judge Rainey To District Court Grand Jury

JUDGE ROBERT M. RAINY.

In this issue of the News we reproduce the charge of Judge Robert M. Rainey, of the district court, to the grand jury now in session. The document will be read with interest and approval by the best citizens of the community, for it breathes the spirit of justice and equity in every paragraph.

Charge to the Grand Jury.

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: The law makes it my duty to charge you with respect to your duties as Grand Jurors. Of course, I understand, as you do, that you have been charged before by Judge West, but you were called in a particular case at that time, and it is now my duty to charge you with respect to your duties at this term of the court.

Gentlemen, there are a great many things for you to do, and I regard this as one of the most important meetings of the grand jury in this county and in this state; in fact, the eyes of the people of the whole state are on this court, and I might say, the eyes of the nation to some extent are upon this particular locality. The duties incumbent upon a grand juror are not always pleasant, and the duties incumbent upon the County Attorney and the Court are not always pleasant, but, under our form of government, we have to have grand juries—we do not necessarily have to have them in every case, because, in our state, crimes can be prosecuted on information by the County Attorney, but, the County Attorney is not always in a position to ferret out crime and violations of the law, and, even when he has done his best, he some times feels that he has not the support of the community. He should have the support of the community and of every law abiding citizen. You, gentlemen, of the jury, come from all parts of the county, you represent every walk of life, or many of the walks of life, and you are acquainted with men in every locality in the county, and you know the particular kinds of violations of the law that are going on in your locality. There has been a very sad condition of affairs on this part of the state lately, and it has been due to a large extent, to the crowded condition of our dockets.

Your present officers and the citizens of the county are not altogether responsible for that condition, because, prior to statehood, we had on the Indian Territory side of the state only five judges; and the courts over which they presided had jurisdiction of all classes of crime, misdemeanors and felonies, as well as probate and other civil matters, and it was a matter of impossibility for the court machinery that the government provided to do the work that was assigned to it and, for that reason, after a man was indicted, his case necessarily remained untried on the docket and justice was often defeated. We inherited in this county that condition of affairs with the coming of statehood, and there are a great many cases on the docket that should be tried that have not been tried. And, we have also been particularly unfortunate in this district. This district was made too large by the constitutional convention, and we were further handicapped by the fact that Judge West has been sick. Judge West is a good judge, and he has been persistent in his efforts; he was a great big, strong, healthy man when he was elected, and he has been sick and fallen off considerably and needs rest. Our dockets here are congested but we are now going to catch up with them. The legislature realized the conditions in this district and they have given us an additional judge, and Judge West and I now expect to try all pending cases. It won't be possible to do that at this term but after this term of court, we will hold one in Seminole county, and then one of us will come here again and every man who has a cause of action, civil or criminal, will get a trial. If a man is guilty, justice ought to be done and he ought to receive his punishment; and if he is innocent, he should be relieved from the charge which is pending over him.

And now, gentlemen of the jury, it is your duty to investigate the crimes that have been committed in this county. I have a great deal of faith in the people of Pontotoc county, and I believe that you gentlemen are here to help. It depends largely on what you do; if you just in a summary way inquire into some of these matters and do not return indictments where the law has been violated, you cannot expect the county attorney to go ahead and get convictions if the grand jury does not help him. It is a great responsibility, and it is a great privilege to be a juror. The object of law is the protection of society. We want the laws enforced so that when we leave our homes as you have done today and as I have done, that our wives, our children and our families will be unmolested by ruffians or other violators of the law; we want to feel that our property is safe, and it must be done through the due course of the law. Now, it is not always an easy matter to be a juror, for, in some cases, it may be that you will have to indict some friend or some neighbor, in fact, it some times gets down even to a kinsman, and it makes it hard, but it must be done for the benefit of society. Our courts are the bulwark of our strength and they must be respected. The judge is not a prosecutor or a defender. The county attorney is necessarily the prosecutor but we are here to do justice to all men, and to see that the guilty man shall be brought to punishment and the innocent man shall be cleared of the charges hanging over him.

Now, gentlemen, I give you that in a general way and it becomes my duty to charge you in regard to particular offenses. While murder is not the highest offense known to the law, it will probably be the highest offense that you will be called upon to investigate. Gentlemen, it is an awful thing to take the life of a human being—there are very few cases where it is at all justifiable very few—though I know there are a few. Gentlemen, a man has a right to the protection of his life and the state must see that it is protected. It is a sacred thing to him, and when you take it, you cannot give it back, and these men who go out and ruthlessly murder people ought to be brought to justice, and they have no right to complain when they reap what they have sown. We have had in this community cold blooded assassins, and these men should be indicted and brought to justice at the first opportunity, and it depends upon the juries to do it; the court cannot do it by himself. Some juries turn guilty men loose, and I do hope that we will have good men on our petit juries. Now murder is a crime that I want you all to investigate to the satisfaction of this county and of the state. The people expect you to investigate these murders that have been committed and I know that you will do it and that you will act seriously and with the full responsibility of your oaths. I know you will do it, and, if it is not done, and you refuse, then, some other time, one of your family may be outraged.

And, gentlemen, there is another thing that it is my duty to charge you with regard to; and that is violations of the prohibition laws, and it makes no difference which way you or I felt or how you or I voted in regard to this law—it is the law of the land today, and it should be enforced just as strenuously as every other law. Now gentlemen, when you come to think about it, it is a mighty poor man who sells whiskey for the money that there is in it—a man who will violate a law just for the money that there is in it is not a good citizen and he deserves no consideration at your hands. There might be some sympathy for a man who brings in a bottle of whiskey and drinks it, but a man who says: I am going to set up my establishment here in your community and I am going to sell whiskey and bad whiskey at that, to the youths of this country and to the old toppers, and I am going to make men drunk and have them fired up in their passions and make them commit crimes, he deserves no sympathy at your hands or the hands of the court and I hope that you will indict everyone of them. And, gentlemen, you can find these men out. I understand that here last week in this town that a number of these places were raided and they found something like a car of whiskey and beer—that is pretty good evidence. I want to call your attention to the fact that it is a violation of the law for a man to rent his building for that purpose and he is not a good citizen altogether I say, because, he helps a man to commit a crime. Now, this is a fine county. I believe that the great majority of its people are fine people, the great state of Oklahoma said: We will put in your county a normal school, make it an educational center; you have fine churches here, and I am sure that it is only a small part of the people who are in favor of law violations. I believe that a great majority of the crimes are traceable to drunkenness. The criminal drunkard says, "I did not know what I was doing; he was my best friend and I shot him." Well, that is no excuse for killing a man—that is no excuse for assaulting a good and sweet woman; indict these men who wilfully let their buildings be rented for the carrying on of this traffic; you should indict them for the misdemeanor that they have committed.

As I said, the people of the state are looking to this county for the enforcement of this law. They want to build up here an educational center with the good citizenship which you have. I hope that you will look into the violations of this law and find some indictments, and we will refer them back to the county court, and I am sure that Judge Terrell and the county attorney will see that justice is done; and, it makes no difference how wealthy a man is, how poor he is, whether he is a lawyer, banker, farmer, doctor or merchant, whatever his calling is, the law knows no difference between men—our courts should be in reality and not in name only, a Temple of Justice, and I hope that you, gentlemen, will see that they are that way, you and the petit jurors who will sit in these cases.

Now, there is another crime that is closely associated with murder and the whiskey joint, and that is, the carrying of concealed weapons, and I believe that I will just read you the statute on that subject, because, there is a part of the statute that is not understood. Now, I will pass from that for the present.

There is another offense known to the law, which I regard as a serious offense, and that is, the misconduct of public officers. If there is a man who ought to observe the law, it is one who has been elected to office; you expect him to do it; he takes an oath to see that all violations of the law are duly prosecuted—he takes the oath, and that oath is far enough reaching to require of him good citizenship, and, if a man who has your confidence and is elected to office, and then betrays it, he has the contempt, or at least should have the contempt of every good citizen in your county. I do not know whether there have been any officers of this kind in this county, or not, but in our county we have had one, and I am glad to say that the grand jury indicted that man and they made a recommendation that he be removed from office; and, if you find any of your officers, whether state, county or district, have violated the law, if they have accepted bribes from any character of men; or, if you find that your marshals or deputy sheriffs or constables, have been carrying guns while drunk, or have been guilty of drunkenness, I want to see you indict them, and bring with your indictment a recommendation that they be suspended from office, and I will do it, because, gentlemen, they are not good citizens. An officer has no right to get drunk and carouse around at any time with a gun buckled around his waist. That is not right; we have plenty of good sober men in this county and in every county in this district, for officers, and if any of them, whether they are precinct, constables, deputy sheriffs, or what not, if they are getting drunk and carrying weapons around with them, I want to see them indicted by this grand jury.

Now, there are many other crimes, such as arson, burglary, forgery, etc. And, just one word in regard to land matters. As I see it, the policy of the federal government has not been wise in this country. I am sure that they have taught some of our citizens not to observe the sacredness of contracts, and we have had many good men who have invested their money in land, deprived of their property without due process of law. Gentlemen of the jury, it is an offense for a man to sell his land two or three times, and you ought to indict them if they do it, and, while this court will be lenient with full blood Indians who do not know what they are doing, we can give them a lesson and let them learn that men must live up to their contracts. Now, on the other hand, there have been many men who have been "grafting" and, by "grafting" I mean a man who by fraud or deceit deprives another of that which is justly his own, and, it is just as wrong to steal from an Indian or a negro as it is to steal from a white man, and if you find through fraud and chicanery that any of our citizens, whether negroes, Indians or white people have been fraudulently deprived of their land, I want you to indict those men for whatever crime they are guilty of, and the county attorney will be with you to explain the statute along those lines. Now, I give you in charge further, the statutes as a whole, you can investigate all character of crimes, and you will have the assistance in your room of the county attorney.

A short time ago the Ada News devoted three columns of valuable space to the rumor that the prohibition law was being violated at Roff. We have heard a small sized rumor this week that last Saturday five joints were raided and seven arrests made at Ada and have been unable by a close scrutiny of the News to find anything but excerpts from the Baptist Journal on the saintliness of "Faith" and "the Kingdom of God." Verily, verily, let us pray!—RoY Eagle.

If the editor of the Eagle was as willing to take before a grand jury as he is through the columns of the Eagle, possibly Roff too might be the scene of a few booze joint raids. Thou too, Bratus?

Hon. Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, occupies the center of the stage in the Senate under the tariff and income tax laws, are under discussion. We quote from his speech of April 27, on the income tax, the following significant and well taken utterance: "I believe in taxing wealth instead of consumption, and I would compel all men to contribute toward the government's support according to what they own rather than according to what they want."

WITNESSES STILL COMING.

Correspondent for Muskogee Times-Democrat Hand His Paper the Following.

Tulsa, Ok., May 14.—There's not a dull moment in the alleged town lot conspiracy cases being investigated by the special grand jury. It was rather a stormy session this morning the principal witnesses being Dwight Tuttle, former chairman of the government townsite commission, Ex-Indian Agent Schoenfelt will likely testify this afternoon, and J. George Wright, Indian inspector at the time the lots were scheduled, is expected to arrive on a hurry call from Washington this evening.

The Virginia witnesses after having been dismissed yesterday were again held until Monday. Twenty-five witnesses in a private car, arrived from Hastings, Michigan, last night.

It is rumored an effort will be made this afternoon to adjourn the jury until Monday. Many witnesses not present at the other investigation are now here and more are coming. The barring of affidavits under the court's instructions is responsible for the new army of witnesses. Government sleuths are as thick as flies in a hotel corridor, Taylor, Lennan and Priest are among those here. The present investigation will cost the government fifty thousand dollars, twenty more than last time.

Deeds are now being used as evidence.

The Tulsa World, in which Gregg is a stockholder, and an officer, came out in another bitter attack on Haskell this morning.

From the present indications the jury will be in session at least three weeks.

J. H. Eaton of Bucyrus, Ohio, a brother of Walter R. Eaton of Muskogee, arrived today.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE MURDER.

Oklahoma's Bloody Record Gets Another Blot at Hartshorne.

McAlester, Okla., May 14.—George Hooks, keeper of a restaurant in Hartshorne, went home at 1 o'clock this morning and found that his wife, Lily, only 18 years old, had been murdered while she slept.

A window open showed how the murderer had entered. A butcher knife with which she had been stabbed was on the bed. Her skull was fractured by blows from a six-shooter and one arm was broken. The murder is a mystery.

UNITED STATES FLAG MUST BE DISPLAYED SPECIAL ORDER FOR SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE.

Supt. Cameron Sets Aside June 14th as Flag Day in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla., May 13.—The following circular letter has been issued by State Superintendent of Instruction E. D. Cameron:

"To County Superintendents and Teachers:

"The Session Laws of 1905 make it obligatory upon every board of education to every school district within Oklahoma to own and display within the school house a United States flag, and imposes a penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $100 upon each member of said board for non-compliance with the provisions of this law. I sincerely believe that this law ought to be enforced, but something more than this is necessary. If our children do not know the history of the flag and do not know what this emblem means to our people, there would be no particular advantage in having the flag in each school house, as provided by the law mentioned.

"I think that every child in the state should be told something concerning the historic building situated at No. 239 Arch street, Philadelphia, in which the first flag of the United States of America was made by Betsy Ross and subsequently adopted by congress June 14, 1777.

"In harmony, therefore, with a worthy custom which is generally prevalent among all of the states of the union, I hereby recommend that Monday, June 14th, 1909, the 132nd anniversary of the birth of the flag, be set apart and observed as flag day by all the schools of the state that happen to be in session at that time. I think it would also be well for all of the county superintendents to take that work up and arrange for special programs wherever possible. A little later we hope to be able to send out special literature on this subject, which will be sent free to all teachers who may wish suggestion on this subject."

DIY FOR 21 YEARS.

Caldwell Says East Half Must Comply With Enabling Act.

Guthrie, Ok., May 14.—E. S. Caldwell, counsel to the governor and directing prohibition enforcement, issued a statement today declaring that repeal of the constitutional prohibition ordinance as applied to former Indian Territory would jeopardize the $5,000,000 school fund and school land grants given the new state by the federal government with the statehood proclamation, and believed now to be worth more than $30,000,000.

Prohibition in Indian Territory for twenty-one years was a condition to securing statehood and rather than have half wet and half dry the people voted prohibition statewide.

Mr. Caldwell's statement results from an announcement that the "Sons of Washington" are preparing to initiate an amendment to the constitution, repealing the prohibition ordinance. "The enabling act required the constitutional convention by ordinance irrevocable to accept terms and conditions of the act," states Mr. Caldwell, "and this the convention did April 22, 1907. Had not this ordinance been irrevocably adopted by the convention the president could not have issued his proclamation admitting the state into the union and we would have been denied the statehood, and as a result the grant of school land and money."

"To get $20,000,000 worth of school land, $5,000,000 in cash and statehood we made a solemn promise to the federal government. To break that promise is not only to sacrifice our sacred honor, but to confess that we never intended to keep our promise; and this under the law amounts to a confession of fraud such as to entitle the federal government to rescind its grant of land and money."

Mr. Caldwell quotes the rule of law applicable to such cases, and while he does not treat of that phase of the subject it is generally admitted that what will apply to prohibition will apply with equal effect to the state capitol question.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

State Supreme Court Holds that Parents Have Voice in Child's Education.

Guthrie, Ok., May 14.—Among the sixty-five decisions handed down by the supreme court is one by Chief Justice Kane upholding State Chairman J. B. Thompson of the democratic state central committee, in his fight against the Pauls Valley school board to compel them to reinstate his children, who had been expelled from school for refusing to take part in singing lessons. The decision holds that the parent is vested with supreme control over the child, including its education, and that while the school authorities of this state have a power to classify and grade the courses of study and text-books, the parent has a right to make a reasonable selection from the prescribed course of study, and this selection must be respected by the school authorities. Chairman Thompson won in the lower courts, Judge R. McMillan presiding, and the supreme court upholds the trial court.

A SCRATCH CAUSED DEATH.

Prominent Ada Physician Has Blood Poisoning After Performing Operation.

From the Daily Ardmoreite.

Word was received here this morning of the death at Sherman, Texas, of Dr. H. Browall of Ada, brother-in-law of Mr. Joe F. Bledsoe of this city.

Dr. Browall performed an operation last week during which he received a scratch on one of his fingers. The wound became infected and blood poisoning set in and his arm was in danger. He was removed to Sherman Monday where it was found necessary to lance the member twenty times and it was thought amputation would be necessary. The poison ran quickly through his system, however, and his death came this morning as a shock to his relatives here and his wife and little son.

Dr. Browall was one of the best known and most prominent physicians and surgeons of this part of Oklahoma. He was a young man, about thirty-seven and leaves a wife and little son, a year old. Mrs. Browall was formerly Mrs. Mabel Latta of Ada, and sister to Mrs. Bledsoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Bledsoe, together with the wife and son, were at the bedside of Dr. Browall when he died. The body will be taken to Ada tomorrow for interment.

Death from Blood Poisoning.

From the Denison Herald.

Sherman, Tex., May 14.—Dr. C. H. Browall of Ada, Okla., died here this morning at 10:30 o'clock from blood poisoning.

Dr. Browall, only 37 years of age, and a picture of perfect physical manhood, performed an operation on a patient at Ada last Sunday. He had a slight scratch on his right arm and in this scratch a small amount of blood from the patient entered. Blood poisoning set in almost immediately. He came to Sherman Tuesday morning, arriving at 2 o'clock, where he received the best attention possible, but to no avail.

Franchise Decision.

Guthrie, Okla., May 13.—Justice R. L. Williams of the supreme court has rendered a decision in which it is held that a telephone company must abide by the contract for which it receives a franchise and must not repudiate any agreement made as a precedent to the company entering a municipality. The case decided was that of the South McAlester-Eufaula Telephone Co. vs. State of Oklahoma ex rel Baker Reid Mercantile Co., et al, Pittsburg county, P. B. Cole, trial judge, affirmed. The telephone company since statehood raised rates above the figure stated in their contract by which it received a franchise in McAlester before statehood.

Judge Cole granted a restraining order preventing the higher rates going into effect, and is upheld.

The decision has a wide spreading influence as a similar condition holds in many Oklahoma towns.

Fire at Holdenville.

Holdenville, Okla., May 14.—Last night at about midnight, fire was discovered in the restaurant known as the City Restaurant, which together with Rodman's grocery and the Cummins meat market, was totally destroyed. The grocery stock of J. A. Smith was also badly damaged by fire and smoke, but the loss is fully covered by insurance.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and a high wind was blowing. That the fire was stopped without a greater damage is due to hard work on the part of the fire department.

The loss is estimated at about $45,000 with $25,000 insurance. The buildings destroyed belonged to Shawnee parties.

PRONOUNCED GUILTY AND SENTENCED TO HANG

DEATH PENALTY FOR JOHN HOPKINS AT LAWTON.

Wife Murderer Gets What Was Coming to Him From an Oklahoma Jury.

Lawton, Okla., May 14.—The jury in the case of John Hopkins, charged with the murder of his wife, Anna Hopkins, at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. J. Galyon in this city on the night of October 29, 1907, today returned a verdict of "guilty."

He was sentenced to death. Hopkins and his wife came here from Kingston, Mo., where Hopkins served sixty days' jail sentence for assaulting his wife.

In the testimony, it was brought out that Hopkins had told prisoners in the Missouri jail that he would get even with his wife as soon as he was released. Hopkins also wrote three letters to his wife, who had come here, threatening her life.

Hopkins' attorney, W. C. Henderson, made a determined fight for Hopkins. A change of venue being denied Judge J. T. Johnson, was sworn off the bench and Judge W. M. Boies of Perry ordered to come here Monday night and conduct the trial. Another effort was made to obtain a change of venue by Hopkins' attorney, who alleged that he could not obtain a fair trial here. The motion for a new trial was again denied.

A jury was secured Wednesday and the trial begun. The state used more than a score of witnesses, among them the 15-year-old son of the prisoner, who testified that his father had threatened his mother's life, even before the date the defense alleged that Hopkins had received an injury that partially wrecked his reason. J. J. Galyon, a prominent merchant of this city, whose wife is a sister to the murdered woman, was also an important witness for the state.

At the time the murder was committed, Hopkins was a robust man, weighing probably two hundred pounds and apparently in excellent health. When brought to trial this week he was almost a total nervous and physical wreck and barely able to walk. Dejected and worn in spirit, he seemed to care little what disposition was made of him.

A PATHETIC SCENE.

Many Friends of Dr. Browall Meet Remains at Depot This Morning.

When the north bound Frisco train arrived this morning bearing the remains of Dr. H. Browall, the platforms from one end to the other were completely jammed with people. The family was met by many friends who escorted them to their home on 17th street, where tears and sadness could be the only greetings.

It was announced yesterday that the funeral would likely take place today, but that arrangement was changed. The Elks will hold a service at the home after noon tomorrow, then the remains will be taken to the First Methodist church where services will be held at 1:30 conducted by Rev. John A. Williams, of Durant. The burial will take place at Rosedale immediately afterward under the auspices of the Elks. All friends of the family are invited to attend these services.

SYSTEMATIC GIVING.

By Mrs. Mary E. Haines.

From Oklahoma Baptist Journal.

Prof. Drummond says that "half the world is on the wrong scent in pursuit of happiness. They think it consists in having and getting and in being served by others." We have proved this true. We are happier in planning for the comfort and pleasure of others, than in serving ourselves. Love is truly "the greatest thing in the world." It is the incentive to all generous thoughts and deeds. We give to our friends because we love them. Do we give to the Lord's work because we love it? We are Christians because of God's great love to us. We have consecrated ourselves to His service. This means our time, our powers of mind and body, our money, our all. These are gifts of this love, and He says: "Freely ye have received, freely give." Remember this, we are constrained to say, "Lord what wilt thou have me to do?" The Psalmist wrote: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name; bring an offering and come into his courts, worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." Most of us are willing to give our time to the public services of the church, but how about the offering? This was part of the worship. Moses in giving directions for the festival services in Deut. (16:16-17) said: "They shall not appear before the Lord empty: every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessings of the Lord thy God, which he hath given thee."

Paul wrote to the church in Corinth, as he had done to the churches in Galatia. "Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him." Is this the way we give? or do we wait for a touching appeal to arouse us, to awaken our sympathies and then give? Some give to one cause, and then feel that they must wait a long time before giving again, because they gave so generously, or, perhaps, they have no money to spare. Others give with the wish that they could give more, but don't see how they can, and possibly afterwards regret that they gave at all, for they have so many ways for the money to be used. This spasmodic giving is a worry and a burden—but little spiritual blessing comes to the soul as the result of such giving. It tends to make us more selfish and dwarfs our Christian growth. This then is our loving service to One whose "mercies are new every morning and fresh every evening." "Who daily loadeth us with benefits."

Paul taught the early Christians that they should give as God had prospered them. We forget that the Lord is directly concerned in our prosperity, that He is the chief factor in all success. Ours is called the richest nation in the world. We know that its wealth is increasing. There is an immense amount of wealth in the Christian church. God gives the power to get this wealth—sunshine and rain are His gifts; seedtime and harvest are ordained by Him; health and skill and wisdom, and every ability to get wealth come from God. Surely there is some reason why this blessing has come to the church. And as His children we should try to find it out. With the increase of riches comes the tendency to forget God, to neglect our Christian duties, to become absorbed in worldly matters. To prove this compare the amount of money given for benevolent objects by any one church with the total wealth of all its members. There may be a few members in that church who give liberally, perhaps their whole share, but only a few.

None is exempt according to Paul's teaching. "Upon the first day of the week, let every one of you lay by Him in store as God hath prospered him." So the rule applies to each one whether we have much or little. For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath and not according to that he hath not. (2 Cor. 8:12). God made regular giving one of the first laws of worship. The tenth of all the produce of the fields, flocks and herds, was required (Lev. 27:30-32). A second tithe or tenth went to the festival services of the temple, and a tenth every third year for the support of the poor, Deut. 14:28-29). The first fruits of everything were offered to God. Their law read: "The tenth shall be holy unto the Lord." Then there were free will offerings given as special thank offerings. These were over and above all the rest. But you say, this was for the Jew. We are exempt from the law. We live under the dispensation of grace.

We believe that all Scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness, that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works (2 Tim. 3:16-17) so we claim the blessings and promises made to the Jews while rejoicing in the liberty of the Gospel. The promise given by Malachi is ours. "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven, and pour you out such a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10. God wants us to honor Him with our substance, then spiritual blessings will be when you feel like it, or give what-poured out. This does not mean give ever happens to be in your purse when some special call is made, or giving large sums, once in a while, nor yet giving certain amounts at regular intervals, but it means systematic giving. In order to give systematically one must find out just how much he receives, or what is his income. Then ascertain what proportion of that income shall be regularly set apart and give to the Lord. This is the one great and essential principle. There can not be systematic giving without proportionate giving. Deciding upon the portion to set apart may trouble some, but why not give the tenth? The Jews had regarded the tenth as the Lord's portion since their earliest history as a nation. Even the heathen often dedicate the tithes to their gods. The Pharisee in our Savior's time said: "I give tithes of all I possess." The Rev. J. H. Brooks of St. Louis said: "Since the rule of consecrating a tenth was observed by the servants of Jehovah before the law was proclaimed, and since it was recognized as just and proper divine legislation, it would seem to be a wise and safe guide to follow still in our contributions to the work of the Lord, adequately express our indebtedness to the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ." In other words this is the very least a Christian can give—if he ever pretends to fill the measure of his privilege and responsibility.

Wilber F. Catf says: "The early teachings of God to the human race, as far back as the days of Abraham—I understand to indicate that a tenth of our income belongs to God as our Father and King. The rule is as appropriate now as it ever was—we ought to give beyond that—but one-tenth of our income to take it is not ours to keep—withholding it we shall come to see by and by we are embezzling trust funds. The one-tenth system makes all give alike—no one is overburdened—none give less than their share—the poor need never feel that their mite is too small to be of any use—for it will cost more sacrifice than the rich man's tenth—remember the Savior's words when he saw the widow casting her "two mites" into the treasury. The rich can rejoice that they are able to help the work of the Lord so liberally. The danger will be that the rich may think their tenth is too much to give. How true it is that the more we have the more we want. Again the poor may feel that the tenth is more than they ought to spare. What does the Bible say about that "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days (Eccl. 11:1). Give and it shall be given unto you: good measure pressed down and shaken together and running over, shall men give into your bosom for with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you again. He which soweth bountifully, shall reap also bountifully. Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of all thine increase: so shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine, Prov. 3:9-10. The giving of the tenth requires faith, but with such promises to lean upon, what have we to love? We are in the hands of the Lord at all times; and he is able to do exceeding abundantly above all we can ask or think." The real giving is when the portion is set apart as the Lord's portion and we realize that we have no more claim upon it only to rightly divide it. In this we are only stewards to manage and disburse it in the best way possible for the Master's glory. We can not but know something of the blessedness of being not only stewards for God but also co-workers with God. The plan of laying aside a certain portion each week makes it much easier for every one, whether the income is large or small. Then when the time comes to give to the various objects, all are surprised that they have so much more to give than formerly under the old haphazard way. No one who has really tried this plan in faith and accepted the promises of God has failed and all are ready to testify to abundant blessings in temporal affairs, and to rich spiritual blessings to that peace of mind and heart that they had not known before. It cannot be otherwise, for we will continually see and acknowledge God's goodness, the arduous labor, even the commonest duties of life will become a pleasure, because we "do all as unto the Lord." The sin of dividing our life into two departments. The business and the church. The secular and the religious be all and in all." If this plan of systematic giving were adopted by all of God's people, there would be an end to all church debts, to all deficits in running expenses, every charity would succeed and the missionary and temperance enterprises would have enough money to speedily evangelize the world. There is that scattereth: and yet increaseth; and there is that withholdeth more than is meet. And it tendeth to poverty. Prov. 11:24.

That thou might'st transomed be

Charge of Judge Rainey To District Court Grand Jury

In this issue of the News we reproduce the charge of Judge Robert M. Rainey, of the district court, to the grand jury now in session. The document will be read with interest and approval by the best citizens of the community, for it breathes the spirit of justice and equity in every paragraph.

Charge to the Grand Jury.

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: The law makes it my duty to charge you with, respect to your duties as Grand Jurors. Of course, I understand, as you do, that you have been charged before by Judge West, but you were called in a particular case at that time, and it is now my duty to charge you with respect to your duties at this term of the court.

Gentlemen, there are a great many things for you to do, and I regard this as one of the most important meetings of the grand jury in this county and in this state. In fact, the eyes of the people of the whole state are on this court, and I might say, the eyes of the nation to some extent are upon this particular locality. The duties incumbent upon a grand juror are not always pleasant, and the duties incumbent upon the County Attorney and the Court are not always pleasant, but, under our form of government, we have to have grand juries—we do not necessarily have to have them in every case, because, in our state, crimes can be prosecuted on information by the County Attorney, but, the County Attorney is not always in a position to ferret out crime and violations of the law, and, even when he has done his best, he some times feels that he has not the support of the community. He should have the support of the community and of every law abiding citizen. A citizen, of the jury, come from all parts of the county, you represent every walk of life, or many of the walks of life and you are acquainted with men in every locality in the county, and you know the particular kinds of violations of the law that are going on in your locality. There has been a very sad condition of affairs on this part of the state lately, and it has been due to a large extent, to the crowded condition of our dockets.

Your present officers and the citizens of the county are not altogether responsible for that condition, because, prior to statehood, we had on the Indian Territory side of the state only five judges, and the courts over which they presided had jurisdiction of all classes of crime, misdemeanors and felonies, as well as probate and other civil matters, and it was a matter of impossibility for the court machinery that the government provided to do the work that was assigned to it and, for that reason, after a man was indicted, his case necessarily remained untried on the docket and justice was often defeated. We inherited in this county that condition of affairs with the coming of statehood, and there are a great many cases on the docket that should be tried that have not been tried. And, we have also been particularly unfortunate in this district. This district was made too large by the constitutional convention, and we were further handicapped by the fact that Judge West has been sick. Judge West is a good judge, and he has been persistent in his efforts; he was a great big, strong, healthy man when he was elected, and he has been sick and fallen off considerably and needs rest. Our dockets here are congested but we are now going to catch up with them. The legislature realized the conditions in this district and they have given us an additional judge, and Judge West and I now expect to try all pending cases. It won't be possible to do that at this term but after this term of court, we will hold one in Seminole county, and then one of us will come here again and every man who has a cause of action, civil or criminal, will get a trial. If a man is guilty, justice ought to be done and he ought to receive his punishment; and if he is innocent, he should be relieved from the charge which is pending over him.

And now, gentlemen of the jury, it is your duty to investigate the crimes that have been committed in this county. I have a great deal of faith in the people of Pontotoc county, and I believe that you gentlemen are here to help. It depends largely on what you do. If you just in a summary way inquire into some of these matters and do not return indictments where the law has been violated, you cannot expect the county attorney to go ahead and get convictions if the grand jury does not help him. It is a great responsibility, and it is a great privilege to be a juror. The object of law is the protection of society. We want the laws enforced so that when we leave our homes as you have done today and as I have done, that our wives, our children and our families will be unmolested by ruffians or other violators of the law; we want to feel that our property is safe, and it must be done through the due course of the law. Now, it is not always an easy matter to be a juror, for, in some cases, it may be that you will have to indict some friend or some neighbor, in fact, it some times gets down even to a kinsman, and it makes it hard, but it must be done for the benefit of society. Our courts are the bulwark of our strength and they must be respected. The judge is not a prosecutor or a defender. The county attorney is necessarily the prosecutor but we are here to do justice to all men, and to see that the guilty man shall be brought to punishment and the innocent man shall be cleared of the charges hanging over him.

Now, Gentlemen, I give you that in a general way and it becomes my duty to charge you in regard to particular offenses. While murder is not the highest offense known to the law, it will probably be the highest offense that you will be called upon to investigate. Gentlemen, it is an awful thing to take the life of a human being—there are very few cases where it is at all justifiable very few—though I know there are a few. Gentlemen, a man has a right to the protection of his life and the state must see that it is protected. It is a sacred thing to him, and when you take it, you cannot give it back, and these men who go out and ruthlessly murder people ought to be brought to justice, and they have no right to complain when they reap what they have sown. We have had in this community cold blooded assassins, and these men should be indicted and brought to justice at the first opportunity, and it depends upon the juries to do it; the court cannot do it by himself. Some juries turn guilty men loose, and I do hope that we will have good men on our petit juries. Now murder is a crime that I want you all to investigate to the satisfaction of this county and of the state. The people expect you to investigate these murders that have been committed and I know that you will do it and that you will act seriously and with the full responsibility of your oaths. I know you will do it, and, if it is not done, and you refuse, then, some other time, one of your family may be outraged.

And, gentlemen, there is another thing that it is my duty to charge you with regard to; and that is violations of the prohibition laws, and it makes no difference which way you or I felt or how you or I voted in regard to this law—it is the law of the land today, and it should be enforced just as strenuously as every other law. Now Gentlemen, when you come to think about it, it is a mighty poor man who sells whiskey for the money that there is in it—a man who will violate a law just for the money that there is in it is not a good citizen and he deserves no consideration at your hands. There might be some sympathy for a man who brings in a bottle of whiskey and drinks it, but a man who says: I am going to set up my establishment here in your community and I am going to sell whiskey and bad whiskey at that, to the youths of this country and to the old toppers, and I am going to make men drunk and have them fired up in their passions and make them commit crimes, he deserves no sympathy at your hands or the hands of the court and I hope that you will indict everyone of them. And, gentlemen, you can find these men out. I understand that here last week in this town that a number of these places were raided and they found something like a car of whiskey and beer—that is pretty good evidence. I want to call your attention to the fact that it is a violation of the law for a man to rent his building for that purpose and he is not a good citizen altogether I say, because, he helps a man to commit a crime. Now, this is a fine county. I believe that the great majority of its people are fine people, the great state of Oklahoma said: We will put in your county a normal school, make it an educational center; you have fine churches here, and I am sure that it is only a small part of the people who are in favor of law violations. I believe that a great majority of the crimes are traceable to drunkenness. The criminal drunkard says, "I did not know what I was doing; he was my best friend and I shot him." Well, that is no excuse for killing a man—that is no excuse for assaulting a good and sweet woman, indict these men who willfully let their buildings be rented for the carrying on of this traffic; you should indict them for the misdemeanor that they have committed.

As I said, the people of the state are looking to this county for the enforcement of this law, they want to build up here an educational center with the good citizenship which you have. I hope that you will look into the violations of this law and find some indictments, and we will refer them back to the county court, and I am sure that Judge Terrell and the county attorney will see that justice is done; and, it makes no difference how wealthy a man is, how poor he is, whether he is a lawyer, banker, farmer, doctor or merchant, whatever his calling is, the law knows no difference between men—our courts should be in reality and not in name only, a Temple of Justice, and I hope that you, gentlemen, will see that they are that way, you and the petit jurors who will sit in these cases.

Now, there is another crime that is closely associated with murder and the whiskey joint, and that is, the carrying of concealed weapons, and I believe that I will just read you the statute on that subject, because, there is a part of the statute that is not understood. Now, I will pass from that for the present.

There is another offense known to the law, which I regard as a serious offense, and that is, the misconduct of public officers. If there is a man who ought to observe the law, it is one who has been elected to office; you expect him to do it, he takes an oath to see that all violations of the law are duly prosecuted—he takes the oath, and that oath is far enough reaching to require of him good citizenship, and, if a man who has your confidence and is elected to office, and then betrays it, he has the contempt, or at least should have the contempt of every good citizen in your county. I do not know whether there have been any officers of this kind in this county, or not, but in our county we have had one, and I am glad to say that the grand jury indicted that man and they made a recommendation that he be removed from office; and, if you find any of your officers, whether state, county or district, have violated the law, if they have accepted bribes from any character of men; or, if you find that your marshals or deputy sheriffs or constables, have been carrying guns while drunk, or have been guilty of drunkenness, I want to see you indict them, and bring with your indictment a recommendation that they be suspended from office, and I will do it, because, gentlemen, they are not good citizens. An officer has no right to get drunk and carouse around at any time with a gun buckled around his waist. That is not right; we have plenty of good sober men in this county and in every county in this district, for officers, and if any of them, whether they are precinct, constables, deputy sheriffs, or what not, if they are getting drunk and carrying weapons around with them, I want to see them indicted by this grand jury.

Now, there are many other crimes, such as arson, burglary, forgery, etc. And, just one word in regard to land matters. As I see it, the policy of the federal government has not been wise in this country, I am sure that they have taught some of our citizens not to observe the sacredness of contracts, and we have had many good men who have invested their money in land, deprived of their property without due process of law. Gentlemen of the jury, it is an offense for a man to sell his land two or three times, and you ought to indict them if they do it, and, while this court will be lenient with full blood Indians who do not know what they are doing, we can give them a lesson and let them learn that men must live up to their contracts. Now, on the other hand, there have been many men who have been "grafting" and, by "grafting" I mean a man who by fraud or deceit deprives another of that which is justly his own, and, it is just as wrong to steal from an Indian or a negro as it is to steal from a white man, and if you find through fraud and chicanery that any of our citizens, whether negroes, Indians or white people have been fraudulently deprived of their land, I want you to indict those men for whatever crime they are guilty of, and the county attorney will be with you to explain the statute along those lines. Now, I give you in charge further, the statutes as a whole, you can investigate all character of crimes, and you will have the assistance in your room of the county attorney.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Since printing the notice today of the funeral of Dr. Brownell, the order of Elks at Shawnee expressed a desire to be present at the funeral and to conduct services, consequently the services at the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. This is done in order that those coming from Shawnee and other points on the Katy may be able to return home on the north bound at 4 o'clock. The Elks will hold a service, at the residence of the deceased and will also conduct the burial.

Entered as Second Class matter, March 26, 1901, at the Postoffice at Ada, Oklahoma, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879

A short time ago the Ada News devoted three columns of value to space to the rumor that the prohibition law was being violated at Roff. We have heard a small sized rumor this week that last Saturday five joints were raided and seven arrests made at Ada and have been unable by a close scrutiny of the News to find anything but excerpts from the Baptist Journal on the saintliness of "Faith" and "The Kingdom of God." Verily, verily, let us pray!—Roy Eagle.

If the editor of the Eagle was as willing to take before a grand jury as he is through the columns of the Eagle, possibly Roff too might be the scene of a few booze joint raids. Thou too, Brutus?

Hon. Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, occupies the center of the stage in the Senate when the tariff and income tax laws are under discussion. We quote from his speech of April 27, on the income tax, the following significant and well taken utterance: "I believe in taxing wealth instead of consumption, and I would compel all men to contribute toward the government's support according to what they own rather than according to what they want."

WITNESSES STILL COMING.

Correspondent for Muskogee Times-Democrat Hand His Paper the Following.

Tulsa, Ok., May 11.—There's not a dull moment in the alleged town lot conspiracy cases being investigated by the special grand jury. It was rather a stormy session this morning the principal witnesses being Dwight Tuttle, former chairman of the government townsite commission, Ex-Indian Agent Sienfeldt will likely testify this afternoon, and J. George Wright, Indian inspector at the time the lots were scheduled, is expected to arrive on a hurry call from Washington this evening.

The Virginia witnesses after having been dismissed yesterday were again held until Monday. Twenty-five witnesses in a private car, arrived from Hastings, Michigan, last night.

It is rumored an effort will be made this afternoon to adjourn the jury until Monday. Many witnesses not present at the other investigation are now here and more are coming. The barring of affidavits under the court's instructions is responsible for the new army of witnesses. Government sleuths are as thick as flies in a hotel corridor, Taylor, Lennan and Priest are among those here. The present investigation will cost the government fifty thousand dollars, twenty more than last time.

Deeds are now being used as evidence.

The Tulsa World in which Gregg is a stockholder, and an officer, came out in another bitter attack on Haskell this morning.

From the present indications the jury will be in session at least three weeks.

J. H. Eaton of Bucyrus Ohio, a brother of Walter R. Eaton of Muskogee, arrived today.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE MURDER.

Oklahoma's Bloody Record Gets Another Blot at Hartshorne.

McAlester, Okla., May 14.—George Hooks, keeper of a restaurant in Hartshorne, went home at 1 o'clock this morning and found that his wife, Lily, only 18 years old, had been murdered while she slept.

A window open showed how the murderer had entered. A butcher knife with which she had been stabbed was on the bed. Her skull was fractured by blows from a six-shooter and one arm was broken. The murder is a mystery.

UNITED STATES FLAG MUST BE DISPLAYED

SPECIAL ORDER FOR SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE.

Supt. Cameron Sets Aside June 14th as Flag Day in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla., May 13.—The following circular letter has been issued by State Superintendent of Instruction E. D. Cameron:

"To County Superintendents and Teachers:

"The Session Laws of 1905 make it obligatory upon every board of education to every school district within Oklahoma to own and display within the school house a United States flag, and imposes a penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $100 upon each member of said board for non-compliance with the provisions of this law. I sincerely believe that this law ought to be enforced, but spending more than this is necessary. If our children do not know the history of the flag and do not know what this emblem means to our people, there would be no particular advantage in having the flag in each school house, as provided by the law mentioned.

"I think that every child in the state should be told something concerning the historic building situated at No. 239 Arch street, Philadelphia, in which the first flag of the United States of America was made by Betty Ross and subsequently adopted by congress June 14, 1777.

"In harmony, therefore, with a worthy custom which is generally prevalent among all of the states of the union, I hereby recommend that Monday, June 14th, 1909, the 132nd anniversary of the birth of the flag, be set apart and observed as flag day by all the schools of the state that happen to be in session at that time. I think it would also be well for all of the county superintendents to take that work up and arrange for special programs wherever possible. A little later we hope to be able to send out special literature on this subject which will be sent free to all teachers who may wish suggestion on this subject."

DRY FOR 21 YEARS.

Caldwell Says East Half Must Comply With Enabling Act.

Guthrie, Ok., May 11.—S. Caldwell, counsel to the governor and directing prohibition enforcement, issued a statement today declaring that repeal of the constitutional prohibition ordinance as applied to former Indian Territory would jeopardize the $5,000,000 school fund and school land grants given the new state by the federal government with the statehood proclamation, and believed now to be worth more than $20,000,000.

Prohibition in Indian Territory for twenty-one years was a condition to securing statehood and rather than have half wet and half dry the people voted prohibition statewide.

Mr. Caldwell's statement results from an announcement that the "Sons of Washington" are preparing to initiate an amendment to the constitution, repealing the prohibition ordinance. "The enabling act required the constitutional convention by ordinance irrevocable to accept terms and conditions of the act," states Mr. Caldwell, "and this the convention did April 22, 1907. Had not this ordinance been irrevocably adopted by the convention the president could not have issued his proclamation admitting the state into the union and we would have been denied the statehood, and as a result the grant of school land and money."

"To get $20,000,000 worth of school land, $5,000,000 in cash and statehood we made a solemn promise to the federal government: To break that promise is not only to sacrifice our sacred honor, but to confess that we never intended to keep our promise; and this under the law amounts to a confession of fraud such as to entitle the federal government to rescind its grant of land and money."

Mr. Caldwell quotes the rule of law applicable to such cases, and while he does not treat of that phase of the subject it is generally admitted that what will apply to prohibition will apply with equal effect to the state capital question.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

State Supreme Court Holds that Parents Have Voice in Child's Education.

Guthrie, Ok., May 14.—Among the sixty-five decisions handed down by the supreme court is one by Chief Justice Kane upholding State Chairman J. B. Thompson of the democratic state central committee, in his fight against the Pauls Valley school board to compel them to reinstate his children, who had been expelled from school for refusing to take part in singing lessons. The decision holds that the parent is vested with supreme control over the child, including its education, and that while the school authorities of this state have a power to classify and grade the scholars, and may prescribe the courses of study and text-books, the parent has a right to make a reasonable selection from the prescribed course of study and this selection must be respected by the school authorities. Chairman Thompson won in the lower courts, Judge R. McMillan presiding, and the supreme court upholds the trial court.

To Be Laid Away.

Unless all signs fail Henry Starr, the notorious outlaw, well known in Muskogee and practically every other city in the eastern part of Oklahoma, is soon to be laid away for a definite period and when next he is released from custody this state will be one of the most populous in the union and a poor field for men of the caliber of Henry Starr.—Muskogee Times-Democrat.

A SCATCH CAUSED DEATH

Prominent Ada Physician Has Blood Poisoning After Performing Operation.

From the Daily Ardmoreite.
Word was received here this morning of the death at Sherman, Texas, of Dr. H. Browall of Ada, brother-in-law of Mr. Joe F. Bledsoe of this city.

Dr. Browall performed an operation last week during which he received a scratch on one of his fingers. The wound became infected and blood poisoning set in and his arm was in danger. He was removed to Sherman Monday where it was found necessary to lance the member twenty times and it was thought amputation would be necessary. The poison ran quickly through his system, however, and his death came this morning as a shock to his relatives here and his wife and little son.

Dr. Browall was one of the best known and most prominent physicians and surgeons of this part of Oklahoma. He was a young man, about thirty-seven and leaves a wife and little son, a year old Mrs. Browall was formerly Mrs. Mabel Latta of Ada, and sister to Mrs. Bledsoe. Mr. and Mrs. Bledsoe, together with the wife and son, were at the bedside of Dr. Browall when he died. The body will be taken to Ada tomorrow for interment.

Death from Blood Poisoning.

From the Denison Herald.
Sherman, Tex., May 14.—Dr. C. H. Browall of Ada, Okla., died here this morning at 10:30 o'clock from blood poisoning.

Dr. Browall, only 37 years of age, and a picture of perfect physical manhood, performed an operation on a patient at Ada last Sunday. He had a slight scratch on his right arm and in this scratch a small amount of blood from the patient entered. Blood poisoning set in almost immediately. He came to Sherman Tuesday morning, arriving at 2 o'clock, where he received the best attention possible, but to no avail.

Franchise Decision.

Guthrie, Okla., May 13.—Justice R. L. Williams of the supreme court has rendered a decision in which it is held that a telephone company must abide by the contract for which it receives a franchise and must not repudiate any agreement made as a precedent to the company entering a municipality. The case decided was that of the South McAlester-Edwina Telephone Co. vs. State of Oklahoma ex rel Baker Reid Mercantile Co. et al, Pittsburg county, P. B. Cole, trial judge affirmed. The telephone company since statehood raised rates above the figure stated in their contract by which it received a franchise in McAlester before statehood.

Judge Cole granted a restraining order preventing the higher rates going into effect, and is upheld. The decision has a wide spreading influence as a similar condition holds in many Oklahoma towns.

Fire at Holdenville.

Holdenville, Okla., May 14.—Last night at about midnight, fire was discovered in the restaurant known as the City Restaurant, which together with Rodman's grocery and the Cummins meat market, was totally destroyed. The grocery stock of J. A. Smith was also badly damaged by fire and smoke, but the loss is fully covered by insurance.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and a high wind was blowing. That the fire was stopped without a greater damage is due to hard work on the part of the fire department.

The loss is estimated at about $45,000 with $2,500 insurance. The buildings destroyed belonged to Shawnee parties.

PRONOUNCED GUILTY AND SENTENCED TO HANG

DEATH PENALTY FOR JOHN HOPKINS AT LAWTON.

Wife Murderer Gets What Was Coming to Him From an Oklahoma Jury.

Lawton, Okla., May 14.—The jury in the case of John Hopkins, charged with the murder of his wife, Anna Hopkins, at the house of her sister, Mrs. J. J. Cady in this city on the night of October 29, 1907, today returned a verdict of "guilty."

He was sentenced to death. Hopkins and his wife came here from Kingston, Mo., where Hopkins served sixty days' jail sentence for assaulting his wife.

In the testimony, it was brought out that Hopkins had told prisoners in the Missouri jail that he would get even with his wife as soon as he was released. Hopkins also wrote three letters to his wife, who had come here, threatening her life.

Hopkins' attorney, W. C. Henderson, made a determined fight for Hopkins. A change of venue being denied Judge J. T. Johnson, was sworn off the bench and Judge W. M. Boles of Perry ordered to come here Monday night and conduct the trial. Another effort was made to obtain a change of venue by Hopkins' attorney, who alleged that he could not obtain a fair trial here. The motion for a new trial was again denied.

A jury was secured Wednesday and the trial began. The state used more than a score of witnesses, among them the 15-year-old son of the prisoner, who testified that his father had threatened his mother's life, even before the date the defense alleged that Hopkins had received an injury that partially wrecked his reason. J. J. Cady, a prominent merchant of this city, whose wife is a sister to the murdered woman, was also an important witness for the state.

At the time the murder was committed, Hopkins was a robust man, weighing probably two hundred pounds and apparently in excellent health. When brought to trial this week he was almost a total nervous and physical wreck and barely able to walk. Dejected and worn in spirit, he seemed to care little what disposition was made of him.

A PATHETIC SCENE. Many Friends of Dr. Brownell Meet Remains at Depot this Morning.

When the north bound Frisco train arrived this morning bearing the remains of Dr. H. Brownell the platform was crowded with people. The family was met by many friends who escorted them to their home on 17th street where tears and sadness could be the only greetings.

It was announced yesterday that the funeral would likely take place today but that arrangement was changed. The folks will hold a service at the home after noon tomorrow then the remains will be taken to the First Methodist church where services will be held at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. John A. Williams of Durant. The burial will take place at Rosedale immediately afterward under the auspices of the folks. All friends of the family are invited to attend these services.

SYSTEMATIC GIVING. By Mrs. Mary E. Hume

From Oklahoma Baptist Journal.

Prof. Drummond says that out of the world is on the wrong scent in pursuit of happiness. They think it consists in having and getting and in being served by others. We have proved this true. We are happier in planning for the comfort and pleasure of others than in serving ourselves. Love is truly the greatest thing in the world. It is the incentive to all generous thoughts and deeds. We give to our friends because we love them. Do we give to the Lord's work because we love it? We are Christians because of God's great love to us. We have consecrated ourselves to His service. This means our time, our powers of mind and body, our money, our all. These are gifts of this love and He says "Freely ye have received freely give." Remember this we are constrained to say. Lord what wilt thou have me to do? The Psalmist wrote "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name being in offering and come into his courts worship the

to become absorbed in worldly matters. To prove this compare the amount of money given for benevolent objects by any one church with the total wealth of all its members. There may be a few members in that church who give liberally perhaps their whole share but only a few.

None is exempt according to Paul's teaching. Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him to store as God hath prospered him. So the rule applies to each one whether we have much or little. For if there be first a willing mind it is accepted according to that a man hath and not according to that he hath not. (2 Cor. 9:12) God made regular giving one of the first laws of worship. The tenth of all the produce of the fields, flocks and herds was required (Lev. 27:30-32). A second tithe or tenth went to the festival services of the temple and a fourth every third year for the support of the poor (Deut. 14:28-29). The first fruits of everything were offered to God. Then law read. The tenth shall be holy unto the Lord. Then there were free will offerings given as special thank offerings. These were over and above all the rest. But you say this was for the few. We are exempt from the law. We live under the dispensation of grace.

We believe that all Scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine for reproof for correction for instruction in righteousness that the man of God may be perfect thoroughly furnished unto all good works (2 Tim. 3:16-17) so we claim the blessings and promises made to the Jews while rejoicing in the liberty of the Gospel. The promise given by Malachi is ours. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse and prove me now herewith saith the Lord of hosts. If I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out such a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it. Mal. 3:10. God wants us to honor Him with our substance then spiritual blessings will be when you feel like it or give what-poured out. This does not mean give ever happens to be in your purse when some special call is made or giving large sums once in a while not yet giving certain amounts at regular intervals but it means systematic giving in order to give systematically one must find out just how much he receives or what is his income. Then ascertain what proportion of that income shall be regularly set apart and give to the Lord. This is the one great and essential principle. There can not be systematic giving without proportionate giving. Deciding upon the portion to set apart my trouble comes but why not give the tenth? The Jews had regarded the tenth as the Lord's portion since their earliest history as a nation. Even the heathen often dedicate the tithes to their gods. The Pharisee in our Savior's time said I give tithes of all I possess. The Rev. J. H. Brooks of St. Louis said. Since the rule of consecrating a tenth was observed by the servants of Jehovah before the law was proclaimed and since it was recognized as just and proper divine legislation it would seem to be a wise and safe guide to follow still in our contributions to the work of the Lord. It quietly expresses our indebtedness to the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ. In other words this is the very least a Christian can give—if he ever pretends to fill the measure of his privilege and responsibility.

Wilber F. Cairns says "The early teachings of God to the human race as far back as the days of Abraham—understand to indicate that a tenth of our income belongs to God as our Father and King. The rule is as appropriate now as it ever was—we ought to give beyond that—but one tenth of our income to take it is not ours to keep—withholding it we shall come to see by and by we are embezzling trust funds. The twentieth system makes all give alike—no one is overburdened—none give less than their share—the poor need never feel that their mite is too small to be of any use—for it will cost more sacrifice than the rich man's tenth—remember the Savior's words when he saw the widow casting her two mites into the treasury. The rich can rejoice that they are able to help the work of the Lord so liberally. The danger will be that the rich may think their tenth is too much to give. How true it is that the more we have the more we want. Again the poor may feel that the tenth is more than they ought to spare. What does the Bible say about that? Cast thy bread upon the waters for thou shalt find it after many days (Eccl. 11:1). Give and it shall be given unto you good measure pressed down and shaken together and running over shall men give into your bosom for with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you again. He which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Honor the Lord with thy substance and with the first fruits of all thine increase so shall thy ways be filled with plenty and thy presses shall burst out with new wine Prov. 3:9-10. The giving of the tenth requires faith but with such promises to lean upon what have we to love? We are in the hands of the Lord at all times and he is able to do exceeding abundantly above all we can ask or think. The real giving is when the portion is set apart as the Lord's portion and we realize that we have no more claim upon it only to rightly divide it. In this we are only stewards to manage and disburse it in the best way possible for the Master's glory. We can not but know something of the blessedness of being not only stewards for God but also co-workers with God. The plan of laying aside a certain portion each week makes it much easier for every one whether the income is large or small. Then when the time comes to give to the various objects all are surprised that they have so much more to give than formerly under the old haphazard way. No one who has really tried this plan in faith and accepted the promises of God has failed and all are ready to testify to abundant blessings in temporal affairs and to rich spiritual blessings to that peace of mind and heart that they had not known before. It cannot be otherwise for we will continually see and acknowledge God's goodness the arduous labor even the commonest duties of life will become a pleasure, because we do all as unto the Lord. The plan of dividing our life into two departments. The business and the church. The secular and the religious be all and in all. If this plan of systematic giving were adopted by all of God's people there would be an end to all church debts to all deficits in running expenses, every charity would succeed and the missionary and temperance enterprises would have enough money to speedily evangelize the world. There is that scattereth and yet increaseth and there is that withholdeth more than is meet. And it tendeth to poverty Prov. 11:24.

In this issue of the News we reproduce the charge of Judge Robert M. Rainey, of the district court, to the grand jury now in session. The document will be read with interest and approval by the best citizens of the community, for it breathes the spirit of justice and equity in every paragraph.

Charge to the Grand Jury. Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:

The law makes it my duty to charge you with, respect to your duties as Grand Jurors. Of course, I understand, as you do, that you have been charged before by Judge West, but you were called in a particular case at that time, and it is now my duty to charge you with respect to your duties at this term of the court.

Gentlemen, there are a great many things for you to do, and I regard this as one of the most important meetings of the grand jury in this county and in this state; in fact, the eyes of the people of the whole state are on this court, and I might say, the eyes of the nation to some extent are upon this particular locality. The duties incumbent upon a grand juror are not always pleasant, and the duties incumbent upon the County Attorney and the Court are not always pleasant, but, under our form of government, we have to have grand juries—we do not necessarily have to have them in every case, because, in our state, crimes can be prosecuted on information by the County Attorney, but, the County Attorney is not always in a position to ferret out crime and violations of the law, and, even when he has done his best, he some times feels that he has not the support of the community. He should have the support of the community and of every law abiding citizen. You, gentlemen, of the jury, come from all parts of the county, you represent every walk of life, or many of the walks of life, and you are acquainted with men in every locality in the county, and you know the particular kinds of violations of the law that are going on in your locality. There has been a very sad condition of affairs on this part of the state lately, and it has been due to a large extent, to the crowded condition of our dockets.

Your present officers and the citizens of the county are not altogether responsible for that condition, because, prior to statehood, we had on the Indian Territory side of the state only five judges, and the courts over which they presided had jurisdiction of all classes of crime, misdemeanors and felonies, as well as probate and other civil matters, and it was a matter of impossibility for the court machinery that the government provided to do the work that was assigned to it and, for that reason, after a man was indicted, his case necessarily remained untried on the docket and justice was often defeated. We inherited in this county that condition of affairs with the coming of statehood, and there are a great many cases on the docket that should be tried that have not been tried. And, we have also been particularly unfortunate in this district. This district was made too large by the constitutional convention, and we were further handicapped by the fact that Judge West has been sick. Judge West is a good judge, and he has been persistent in his efforts; he was a great big, strong, healthy man when he was elected, and he has been sick and fallen off considerably and needs rest. Our dockets here are congested but we are now going to catch up with them. The legislature realized the conditions in this district and they have given us an additional judge, and Judge West and I now expect to try all pending cases. It won't be possible to do that at this term but after this term of court, we will hold one in Seminole county, and then one of us will come here again and every man who has a cause of action, civil or criminal, will get a trial. If a man is guilty, justice ought to be done and he ought to receive his punishment; and if he is innocent, he should be relieved from the charge which is pending over him.

And now, gentlemen of the jury, it is your duty to investigate the crimes that have been committed in this county. I have a great deal of faith in the people of Pontotoc county, and I believe that you gentlemen are here to help. It depends largely on what you do; if you just in a summary way inquire into some of these matters and do not return indictments where the law has been violated, you cannot expect the county attorney to go ahead and get convictions if the grand jury does not help him. It is a great responsibility, and it is a great privilege to be a juror. The object of law is the protection of society. We want the laws enforced so that when we leave our homes as you have done today and as I have done, that our wives, our children and our families will be unmolested by ruffians or other violators of the law; we want to feel that our property is safe, and it must be done through the due course of the law. Now, it is not always an easy matter to be a juror, for, in some cases, it may be that you will have to indict some friend or some neighbor, in fact, it some times gets down even to a kinsman, and it makes it hard, but it must be done for the benefit of society. Our courts are the bulwark of our strength and they must be respected. The judge is not a prosecutor or a defender. The county attorney is necessarily the prosecutor but we are here to do justice to all men, and to see that the guilty man shall be brought to punishment and the innocent man shall be cleared of the charges hanging over him.

Now, gentlemen, I give you that in a general way and it becomes my duty to charge you in regard to particular offenses. While murder is not the highest offense known to the law, it will probably be the highest offense that you will be called upon to investigate. Gentlemen, it is an awful thing to take the life of a human being—there are very few cases where it is at all justifiable very few—though I know there are a few. Gentlemen, a man has a right to the protection of his life and the state must see that it is protected. It is a sacred thing to him, and when you take it, you cannot give it back, and these men who go out and ruthlessly murder people ought to be brought to justice, and they have no right to complain when they reap what they have sown. We have had in this community cold blooded assassins, and these men should be indicted and brought to justice at the first opportunity, and it depends upon the juries to do it; the court cannot do it by himself. Some juries turn guilty men loose, and I do hope that we will have good men on our petit juries. Now murder is a crime that I want you all to investigate to the satisfaction of this county and of the state. The people expect you to investigate these murders that have been committed and I know that you will do it and that you will act seriously and with the full responsibility of your oaths. I know you will do it, and, if it is not done, and you refuse, then, some other time, one of your family may be outraged.

And, gentlemen, there is another thing that it is my duty to charge you with regard to; and that is violations of the prohibition laws, and it makes no difference which way you or I felt or how you or I voted in regard to this law—it is the law of the land today, and it should be enforced just as strenuously as every other law. Now gentlemen, when you come to think about it, it is a mighty poor man who sells whiskey for the money that there is in it—a man who will violate a law just for the money that there is in it is not a good citizen and he deserves no consideration at your hands. There might be some sympathy for a man who brings in a bottle of whiskey and drinks it, but a man who says: I am going to set up my establishment here in your community and I am going to sell whiskey and bad whiskey at that, to the youths of this country and to the old toppers, and I am going to make men drunk and have them fired up in their passions and make them commit crimes, he deserves no sympathy at your hands or the hands of the court and I hope that you will indict everyone of them. And, gentlemen, you can find these men out, I understand that here last week in this town that a number of these places were raided and they found something like a car of whiskey and beer—that is pretty good evidence. I want to call your attention to the fact that it is a violation of the law for a man to rent his building for that purpose and he is not a good citizen altogether I say, because, he helps a man to commit a crime. Now, this is a fine county, I believe that the great majority of its people are fine people, the great state of Oklahoma said: We will put in your county a normal school, make it an educational center; you have fine churches here, and I am sure that it is only a small part of the people who are in favor of law violations. I believe that a great majority of the crimes are traceable to drunkenness. The criminal drunkard says, "I did not know what I was doing; he was my best friend and I shot him." Well, that is no excuse for killing a man—that is no excuse for assaulting a good and sweet woman. Indict these men who willfully let their buildings be rented for the carrying on of this traffic; you should indict them for the misdemeanor that they have committed.

As I said, the people of the state are looking to this county for the enforcement of this law, they want to build up here an educational center with the good citizenship which you have. I hope that you will look into the violations of this law and find some indictments, and we will refer them back to the county court, and I am sure that Judge Terrell and the county attorney will see that justice is done; and, it makes no difference how wealthy a man is, how poor he is, whether he is a lawyer, banker, farmer, doctor or merchant, whatever his calling is, the law knows no difference between men—our courts should be in reality and not in name only, a Temple of Justice, and I hope that you, gentlemen, will see that they are that way, you and the petit jurors who will sit in these cases.

Now, there is another crime that is closely associated with murder and the whiskey joint, and that is, the carrying of concealed weapons, and I believe that I will just read you the statute on that subject, because, there is a part of the statute that is not understood. Now, I will pass from that for the present.

There is another offense known to the law, which I regard as a serious offense, and that is, the misconduct of public officers. If there is a man who ought to observe the law, it is one who has been elected to office; you expect him to do it, he takes an oath to see that all violations of the law are duly prosecuted—he takes the oath, and that oath is far enough reaching to require of him good citizenship, and, if a man who has your confidence and is elected to office, and then betrays it, he has the contempt, or at least should have the contempt of every good citizen in your county. I do not know whether there have been any officers of this kind in this county, or not, but in our county we have had one, and I am glad to say that the grand jury indicted that man and they made a recommendation that he be removed from office; and, if you find any of your officers, whether state, county or district, have violated the law, if they have accepted bribes from any character of men; or, if you find that your marshals or deputy sheriffs or constables, have been carrying guns while drunk, or have been guilty of drunkenness, I want to see you indict them, and bring with your indictment a recommendation that they be suspended from office, and I will do it, because, gentlemen, they are not good citizens. An officer has no right to get drunk and carouse around at any time with a gun buckled around his waist. That is not right; we have plenty of good soldier men in this county and in every county in this district, for officers, and if any of them, whether they are precinct, constables, deputy sheriffs, or what not, if they are getting drunk and carrying weapons around with them, I want to see them indicted by this grand jury.

Now, there are many other crimes, such as arson, burglary, forgery, etc. And, just one word in regard to land matters. As I see it, the policy of the federal government has not been wise in this country, I am sure that they have taught some of our citizens not to observe the sacredness of contracts, and we have had many good men who have invested their money in land, deprived of their property without due process of law. Gentlemen of the jury, it is an offense for a man to sell his land two or three times, and you ought to indict them if they do it, and, while this court will be lenient with full blood Indians who do not know what they are doing, we can give them a lesson and let them learn that men must live up to their contracts. Now, on the other hand, there have been many men who have been "grating" and, by "grating" I mean a man who by fraud or deceit deprives another of that which is justly his own, and, it is just as wrong to steal from an Indian or a negro as it is to steal from a white man, and if you find through fraud and chicanery that any of our citizens, whether negroes, Indians or white people have been fraudulently deprived of their land, I want you to indict those men for whatever crime they are guilty of, and the county attorney will be with you to explain the statute along those lines. Now, I give you in charge further, the statutes as a whole, you can investigate all character of crimes, and you will have the assistance in your room of the county attorney.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Since printing the notice today of the funeral of Dr. Brown, the order of Elks at Shawnee expressed a desire to be present at the funeral and to conduct services, consequently the services at the Methodist church, conducted by Rev. John A. Williams, will be held at 1:30 instead of 2:30 as announced. This is done in order that those coming from Shawnee and other points on the Katy may be able to return home on the north bound at 4 o'clock. The Elks will hold a service at the residence of the deceased and will also conduct the burial.

Detail of Storm Damage.

Kansas City, Mo., May 14.—A number of persons were killed by cyclones in this section this afternoon and probably twenty-five persons were injured here tonight. A cyclone visited the northern part of Lawrence Township seven miles from Concordia, Kan., late this afternoon, destroying much farm property and the village of Hollis, including the church and elevator. Reports are of three deaths, all young men, named Jearde, Cyr and Eckert, and the Eckstrom family of five, whose home is in ruins, can not be found. It is impossible to get facts tonight, all phone wires being down. Hailstones five inches in circumference fell here this afternoon.

A cyclone at Haiselton, fourteen miles west of Great Bend, Kan., today killed two persons.

One man killed and damage to various mining plants throughout the Missouri-Kansas lead and zinc district this afternoon, William Elliott, a carpenter, was blown from a high derrick at the Hull Prok mine at Centwood, near Joplin, Mo., falling to a pile of gravel forty feet below. He was instantly killed.

Evening Edition, except Sunday
Week 7 Publication, Thursday

OFFICE: Weaver-Masonic, Block, 12th and Broadway

OTIS B. WEAVER, EDITOR AND OWNER

TERMS: Weekly the year $1.00 Daily, the week 10c. Daily, the year $1.00

Daily delivered in city by carrier every evening except Sunday.
The Weekly will be sent to responsible subscribers until ordered discontinued and all arrears are paid.

Entered as Second Class matter, March 26, 1904, at the Postoffice at Ada, Oklahoma, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

A short time ago the Ada News devoted three columns of valuable space to the rumor that the prohibition law was being violated at Roff. We have heard a small sized rumor this week that last Saturday five joints were raided and seven arrests made at Ada and have been unable by a close scrutiny of the News to find anything but excerpts from the Baptist Journal on the saintliness of "Faith" and "the Kingdom of God." Verily, verily, let us pray:—Roy Eagle.

If the editor of the Eagle was as willing to let before a grand jury as he is through the columns of the Eagle, possibly Roff too might be the scene of a few booze joint raids. Thou too, Brutus?

Hon. Joseph W. Bailey, of Texas, occupies the center of the stage in the Senate when the tariff and income tax laws are under discussion. We quote from his speech of April 27, on the income tax, the following significant and well taken utterance: "I believe in taxing wealth instead of consumption, and I would compel all men to contribute toward the government's support according to what they own rather than according to what they want."

WITNESSES STILL COMING.

Correspondent for Muskogee Times-Democrat Hand His Paper the Following:

Tulsa, Ok., May 11.—There's not a dull moment in the alleged town lot conspiracy cases being investigated by the special grand jury. It was rather a stormy session this morning the principal witnesses being Dwight Tuttle, former chairman of the government townsite commission, Ex-Indian Agent Schoenfeldt will likely testify this afternoon, and J. George Wright, Indian inspector at the time the lots were scheduled, is expected to arrive on a hurry call from Washington this evening.

The Virginia witnesses after having been dismissed yesterday were again held until Monday. Twenty-five witnesses in a private car, arrived from Hastings, Michigan, last night.

It is rumored an effort will be made this afternoon to adjourn the jury until Monday. Many witnesses not present at the other investigation are now here and more are coming. The barring of affidavits under the court's instructions is responsible for the new army of witnesses. Government sleuths are as thick as flies in a hotel corridor, Taylor, Lennan and Priest are among those here. The present investigation will cost the government fifty thousand dollars, twenty more than last time.

Deeds are now being used as evidence.

The Tulsa World in which Gregg is a stockholder, and an officer, came out in another bitter attack on Haskell this morning.

From the present indications the jury will be in session at least three weeks.

J. M. Eaton of Bucyrus Ohio, a brother of Walter R. Eaton of Muskogee, arrived today.

ANOTHER HORRIBLE MURDER.

Oklahoma's Bloody Record Gets Another Blot at Harshorne.

McAlester, Okla., May 11.—George Hooks, keeper of a restaurant in Harshorne, went home at 1 o'clock this morning and found that his wife, Lily, only 18 years old, had been murdered while she slept.

A window open showed how the murderer had entered. A butcher knife with which she had been stabbed was on the bed. Her skull was fractured by blows from a six-shooter and one arm was broken. The murder is a mystery.

UNITED STATES FLAG MUST BE DISPLAYED

SPECIAL ORDER FOR SCHOOLS TO OBSERVE.

Supt. Cameron Sets Aside June 14th as Flag Day in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla., May 13.—The following circular letter has been issued by State Superintendent of Instruction E. D. Cameron:

"To County Superintendents and Teachers:

"The Session Laws of 1905 make it obligatory upon every board of education to every school district within Oklahoma to own and display within the school house a United States flag, and imposes a penalty of not less than $10 nor more than $100 upon each member of said board for non-compliance with the provisions of this law. I sincerely believe that this law ought to be enforced, but something more than this is necessary. If our children do not know the history of the flag and do not know what this emblem means to our people, there would be no particular advantage in having the flag in each school house, as provided by the law mentioned.

"I think that every child in the state should be told something concerning the historic building situated at No. 239 Arch street, Philadelphia, in which the first flag of the United States of America was made by Betty Ross and subsequently adopted by congress June 14, 1777.

"In harmony, therefore, with a worthy custom which is generally prevalent among all of the states of the union, I hereby recommend that Monday, June 14th, 1909, the 132nd anniversary of the birth of the flag, be set apart and observed as flag day by all the schools of the state that happen to be in session at that time. I think it would also be well for all of the county superintendents to take that work up and arrange for special programs wherever possible. A little later we hope to be able to send out special literature on this subject which will be sent free to all teachers who may wish suggestion on this subject."

DRY FOR 21 YEARS.

Caldwell Says East Half Must Comply With Enabling Act.

Guthrie, Ok., May 11.—S. Caldwell, counsel to the governor and directing prohibition enforcement, issued a statement today declaring that repeal of the constitutional prohibition ordinance as applied to former Indian Territory would jeopardize the $5,000,000 school fund and school land grants given the new state by the federal government with the statehood proclamation, and believed now to be worth more than $20,000,000.

Prohibition in Indian Territory for twenty-one years was a condition to securing statehood and rather than have half wet and half dry the people voted prohibition statewide.

Mr. Caldwell's statement results from an announcement that the "Sons of Washington" are preparing to initiate an amendment to the constitution, repealing the prohibition ordinance. "The enabling act required the constitutional convention by ordinance irrevocable to accept terms and conditions of the act," states Mr. Caldwell, "and this the convention did April 22, 1907. Had not this ordinance been irrevocably adopted by the convention the president could not have issued his proclamation admitting the state into the union and we would have been denied the statehood, and as a result the grant of school land and money."

"To get $20,000,000 worth of school land, $5,000,000 in cash and statehood we made a solemn promise to the federal government. To break that promise is not only to sacrifice our sacred honor, but to confess that we never intended to keep our promise; and this under the law amounts to a confession of fraud such as to entitle the federal government to rescind its grant of land and money."

Mr. Caldwell quotes the rule of law applicable to such cases, and while he does not treat of that phase of the subject it is generally admitted that what will apply to prohibition will apply with equal effect to the state capital question.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

State Supreme Court Holds that Parents Have Voice in Child's Education.

Guthrie, Ok., May 14.—Among the sixty-five decisions handed down by the supreme court is one by Chief Justice Kane upholding State Chairman J. B. Thompson of the democratic state central committee, in his fight against the Pauls Valley school board to compel them to reinstate his children, who had been expelled from school for refusing to take part in singing lessons. The decision holds that the parent is vested with supreme control over the child, including its education, and that while the school authorities of this state have a power to classify and grade the scholars, and may prescribe the courses of study and text-books, the parent has a right to make a reasonable selection from the prescribed course of study and this selection must be respected by the school authorities. Chairman Thompson won in the lower courts, Judge R. McMillan presiding, and the supreme court upholds the trial court.

Prominent Ada Physician Has Blood Poisoning After Performing Operation.

From the Daily Ardmoreite.

Word was received here this morning of the death at Sherman, Texas, of Dr. H. Browall of Ada, brother-in-law of Mr. Joe F. Bledsoe of this city.

Dr. Browall performed an operation last week during which he received a scratch on one of his fingers. The wound became infected and blood poisoning set in and his arm was in danger. He was removed to Sherman Monday where it was found necessary to lance the member twenty times and it was thought amputation would be necessary. The poison ran quickly through his system, however, and his death came this morning as a shock to his relatives here and his wife and little son.

Dr. Browall was one of the best known and most prominent physicians and surgeons of this part of Oklahoma. He was a young man, about thirty-seven and leaves a wife and little son, a year old Mrs. Browall was formerly Mrs. Mabel Latta of Ada, and sister to Mrs. Bledsoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Bledsoe, together with the wife and son, were at the bedside of Dr. Browall when he died. The body will be taken to Ada tomorrow for interment.

Death from Blood Poisoning.

From the Denison Herald.

Sherman, Tex., May 14.—Dr. C. H. Browall of Ada, Okla., died here this morning at 10:30 o'clock from blood poisoning.

Dr. Browall, only 37 years of age, and a picture of perfect physical manhood, performed an operation on a patient at Ada last Sunday. He had a slight scratch on his right arm and in this scratch a small amount of blood from the patient entered. Blood poisoning set in almost immediately. He came to Sherman Tuesday morning, arriving at 2 o'clock, where he received the best attention possible, but to no avail.

Franchise Decision.

Guthrie, Okla., May 13.—Justice R. L. Williams of the supreme court has rendered a decision in which it is held that a telephone company must abide by the contract for which it receives a franchise and must not repudiate any agreement made as a precedent to the company entering a municipality. The case decided was that of the South McAlester-Enfield Telephone Co. vs. State of Oklahoma ex rel Baker Reid Mercantile Co. et al, Pritchburg county, P. B. Cole, trial judge affirmed. The telephone company since statehood raised rates above the figure stated in their contract by which it received a franchise in McAlester before statehood.

Judge Cole granted a restraining order preventing the higher rates going into effect, and is upheld.

The decision has a wide spreading influence as a similar condition holds in many Oklahoma towns.

Fire at Holdenville.

Holdenville, Okla., May 14.—Last night at about midnight, fire was discovered in the restaurant known as the City Restaurant, which together with Rodman's grocery and the Cummins meat market, was totally destroyed. The grocery stock of J. A. Smith was also badly damaged by fire and smoke, but the loss is fully covered by insurance.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered and a high wind was blowing. That the fire was stopped without a greater damage is due to hard work on the part of the fire department.

The loss is estimated at about $4,000 with $2,500 insurance. The buildings destroyed belonged to Shawnee parties.

DEATH PENALTY FOR JOHN HOPKINS AT LAWTON.

Wife Murderer Gets What Was Coming to Him From an Oklahoma Jury.

Lawton, Okla., May 14.—The jury in the case of John Hopkins, charged with the murder of his wife, Anna Hopkins, at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. J. Calyon in this city on the night of October 29, 1907, today returned a verdict of "guilty."

He was sentenced to death.

Hopkins and his wife came here from Kingston, Mo., where Hopkins served sixty days' jail sentence for assaulting his wife.

In the testimony, it was brought out that Hopkins had told prisoners in the Missouri jail that he would get even with his wife as soon as he was released. Hopkins also wrote three letters to his wife, who had come here, threatening her life.

Hopkins' attorney, W. C. Henderson, made a determined fight for Hopkins. A change of venue being denied Judge J. T. Johnson, was sworn off the bench and Judge W. M. Boles of Perry ordered to come here Monday night and conduct the trial. Another effort was made to obtain a change of venue by Hopkins' attorney, who alleged that he could not obtain a fair trial here. The motion for a new trial was again denied.

A jury was secured Wednesday and the trial began. The state used more than a score of witnesses, among them the 15-year-old son of the prisoner, who testified that his father had threatened his mother's life, even before the date the defense alleged that Hopkins had received an injury that partially wrecked his reason.

J. J. Calyon, a prominent merchant of this city, whose wife is a sister to the murdered woman, was also an important witness for the state. At the time the murder was committed, Hopkins was a robust man, weighing probably two hundred pounds and apparently in excellent health. When brought to trial this week he was almost a total nervous and physical wreck and barely able to walk. Dejected and worn in spirit, he seemed to care little what disposition was made of him.

A PATHETIC SCENE.

Many Friends of Dr. Brownell Meet Remains at Depot this Morning.

When the north bound Frisco train arrived this morning bearing the remains of Dr. H. Brownell the platform from one end to the other was completely jammed with people. The family was met by many friends who escorted them to their home on 17th street where tears and sadness could be the only greetings.

It was announced yesterday that the funeral would likely take place today but that arrangement was changed. The folks will hold a service at the home after noon tomorrow then the remains will be taken to the First Methodist church where services will be held at 1:30 conducted by Rev. John A. Williams of Durant. The burial will take place at Rosedale immediately afterward under the auspices of the folks. All friends of the family are invited to attend these services.

SYSTEMATIC GIVING.

By Mrs. Mary B. Hilde

From Oklahoma Baptist Journal

Prof. Drummond says that all the world is on the wrong scent in quest of happiness. They think it consists in having and getting and in being served by others. We have proved this true. We are happier in planning for the comfort and pleasure of others than in serving ourselves. Love is truly the greatest thing in the world. It is the incentive to all generous thoughts and deeds. We give to our friends because we love them. Do we give to the Lord's work because we love it? We are Christians because of God's great love to us. We have consecrated ourselves to His service. This means our time, our powers of mind and body, our money, our all. These are gifts of this love and He says "Freely ye have received freely give. Remember this we are constrained to say. Lord what wilt thou have me to do?" The Psalmist wrote "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name, bring in offering and come into his courts, worship the

to become absorbed in worldly matters. To prove this compare the amount of money given for benevolent objects by any one church with the total wealth of all its members. There may be a few members in that church who give liberally, perhaps their whole share, but only a few.

None is exempt according to Paul's teaching. Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by Him in store as God hath prospered him. So the rule applies to each one whether we have much or little. For if there be first a willing mind it is accepted according to that a man hath and not according to that he hath not. (2 Cor. 9:12) God made regular giving one of the first laws of worship. The tenth of all the produce of the fields, flocks and herds was required (Lev. 27:30-32). A second tithe or tenth went to the festival services of the temple and a tenth every third year for the support of the poor (Deut. 14:28-29). The first fruits of everything were offered to God. Then law read: The tenth shall be holy unto the Lord. When there were free will offerings given as special thank offerings. These were over and above all the rest. But you say this was for the law. We are exempt from the law. We live under the dispensation of grace.

We believe that all Scripture is given by inspiration of God and is profitable for doctrine for reproof for correction for instruction in righteousness that the man of God may be perfect thoroughly furnished unto all good works. (2 Tim. 3:16-17) so we claim the blessings and promises made to the Jews while rejoicing in the liberty of the Gospel. The promise given by Malachi is ours. Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse and prove me now herewith saith the Lord of hosts if I will not open the windows of heaven and pour you out such a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it. Mal. 3:10 God wants us to honor Him with our substance. Then spiritual blessings will be when you feel like it or give what poured out. This does not mean give ever happens to be in your purse when some special call is made or giving large sums once in a while not yet giving certain amounts at regular intervals but it means systematic giving. In order to give systematically one must had out just how much he receives or what is his income. Then ascertain what proportion of that income shall be regularly set apart and give to the Lord. This is the one great and essential principle. There can not be systematic giving without proportionate giving. Deciding upon the portion to set apart my trouble some but why not give the tenth? The Jews had regarded the tenth as the Lord's portion since their earliest history as a nation. Even the heathen often dedicate the tithes to their gods. The Pharisee in our Savior's time said: I give tithes of all I possess. The Rev. J. H. Brooks of St. Louis said: Since the title of consecrating a tenth was observed in the servants of Jehovah before the law was proclaimed and since it was recognized as just and proper divine legislation it would seem to be a wise and safe guide to follow still in our contributions to the work of the Lord adequately express our indebtedness to the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ. In other words this is the very least a Christian can give—if he ever pretends to fill the measure of his privilege and responsibility.

Wilber F. Cairns says: "The early teachings of God to the human race as far back as the days of Abraham—I understand to indicate that a tenth of our income belongs to God as our Father and King. The rule is as appropriate now as it ever was—we ought to give beyond that—but one tenth of our income to take it is not ours to keep—withholding it we shall come to see by and by we are embelazing trust funds. The one-tenth system makes all give alike—no one is overburdened—none give less than their share—the poor need never feel that their mite is too small to be of any use—for it will cost more sacrifice than the rich man's tenth—remember the Savior's words when he saw the widow casting her two mites into the treasury. The rich can rejoice that they are able to help the work of the Lord so liberally. The danger will be that the rich may think then tenth is too much to give. How true it is that the more we have the more we want. Again the poor may feel that the tenth is more than they ought to spare. What does the Bible say about that? Cast thy bread upon the waters for thou shalt find it after many days. (Eccl. 11:1) Give and it shall be given unto you good measure pressed down and shaken together and running over shall men give into your bosom for with what measure ye mete it shall be measured unto you again. He which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully. Honor the Lord with thy substance and with the first fruits of all thine increase so shall thy barns be filled with plenty and thy presses shall burst out with new wine Prov. 3:9-10. The giving of the tenth requires faith but with such promises to lean upon what have we to love? We are in the hands of the Lord at all times and he is able to do exceeding abundantly above all we can ask or think. The real giving is when the portion is set apart as the Lord's portion and we realize that we have no more claim upon it only to rightly divide it. In this we are only stewards to manage and disburse it in the best way possible for the Master's glory. We can not but know something of the blessedness of being not only stewards for God but also co-workers with God. The plan of laying aside a certain portion each week makes it much easier for every one whether the income is large or small. Then when the time comes to give to the various objects all are surprised that they have so much more to give than formerly under the old haphazard way. No one who has really tried this plan in faith and accepted the promises of God has failed and all are ready to testify to abundant blessings in temporal affairs and to rich spiritual blessings to that peace of mind and heart that they had not known before. It cannot be otherwise for we will continually see and acknowledge God's goodness the arduous labor even the commonest duties of life will become a pleasure, because we do all as unto the Lord. The sin of dividing our life into two departments. The business and the church. The secular and the religious be all and in all. If this plan of systematic giving were adopted by all of God's people there would be an end to all church debts to all deficits in running expenses, every charity would succeed and the missionary and temperance enterprises would have enough money to speedily evangelize the world. There is that scattereth and yet increaseth and there is that withholdeth more than is meet. And it tendeth to poverty. Prov. 11:24.
